

MARC ROBERTS

In 1997 Marc came to international prominence when he represented Ireland in the Eurovision Song Contest & came a credible second with 'Mysterious Woman'.

Marc's first self-titled album was released shortly after & he toured extensively throughout Europe. He appeared on all the top TV shows in the UK. Four more albums followed. 'Meet Me Half Way', 'Once in your Life', 'The Promise' & his current album 'Now And Then'.

Marc's versatility as a performer has taken him all over the world. Performing his own music in Europe, Australia & Tasmania (where he has built up a large fan base), the American festivals, Milwaukee and Chicago gives Marc an opportunity to showcase his Irish & contemporary side.

Marc releases his fifth studio album, 'Now & Then'. He has returned to his first love, American country music! The album includes covers from Rascal Flatts, Keith Urban, Restless Heart, Clint Black, Colin Raye & two brand new originals. One of the tracks from the album is the duet Marc has recorded with Mary Duff. 'Now & Then', has 11 brand new recordings & 7 earlier recordings, including 4 John Denver songs.

Last year Marc was the recipient of the 'Sunday World All Ireland Country Music Awards' - 'Solo artist of the year'. This year they have awarded him 'Theatre show of the year' for his interpretation of Denver's music.

For the past nine years Marc has been a special guest on 'Trad On The Prom'. The show runs 3 nights a week from May to September each year. Established as the Number One Show in Ireland, it's a celebration of Irish Culture

Songwriting has always been a huge part of Marc's career. All of his albums to date have included his own materiel.

He has co-written with many top songwriters.... Brian Kennedy, Charlie McGettigan, Jimmy MacCarthy, Darren Holden, Ben Mills, Derek Ryan, Grammy Nominee Billy Yates & Daniel O'Donnell. With Daniel, Marc has co written 15 songs and has had a top 20 hit in the UK singles charts. He was awarded 3 platinum discs.

Marc presents a new TV series 'Opry an Íuir.

Last Autumn Big Mountain Productions and TG4 showcased the biggest acts in country music in the intimate setting of the Old Town Hall in Newry.

This year Marc recorded Series Two of Opry. He mentors the special guests, helps to pick their songs and produces the final product.

Marc is a presenter with 'Galway Bay FM'. His shows 'The Feel Good Factor', are exactly as it says, feel good music! He's on air every Saturday 12-3pm & Sundays 11:30-1:30pm.

'A tribute to the music of John Denver'.

Marc's show has sold out theatres all over Ireland including the National Concert Hall, Dublin, on two occasions. It was a great honour to perform this show in John's hometown Denver, Colorado, & also festivals in Milwaukee, Chicago, Germany, Australia and Tasmania.
